LIFE DEPARTMENT.

Life Business in all its Branches.

The Directors request the attention of the public to the recent change that has been made in the Life Tables, by the abandonment of

TABLE No. II. of present Prospectus, under which a fixed Bonus is guaranteed independent of profits, and the Substitution of a TABLE B, that will appear in new Prospectus, shortly to be published, under which the Assured will participate in the profits arising from policies issued under this table, of which 4-5ths will be reserved for the Policy Holders.

The Division of Profits will, for the present, be Quinquennial. The Bonus or Declared Profits may be applied to an INCREASE OF THE SUM ASSURED TO A REDUCTION OF FUTURE PREMIUMS, OR TO A PRESENT CASH PAYMENT UNDER DISCOUNT.

The Directors have been induced to make these alterations under a desire to conform to the more modern wishes of the public to participate in profits.

EXTRACT FROM NEW TABLE B.

Read Opinions of the Press with reference to the extensive Alterations in Oxford House.

Hair Cutting Saloon.—Within the last two or three weeks Mr. C. E. WIGZELL, of Oxford House, Oxford-street, has erected a new building which is worth notice, as having been designed especially to carry on the business of hair-dressing. The site of the whole premises is wholly taken up by the front shop under the new order of things; and at the rear of this shop there is a ladies' room neatly fitted up, and lofty, surmounted by a large lantern; and still further at the rear, a large hair-dressing and cutting saloon, profusely adorned with large plate-glass mirrors, several of which are of colonial workmanship, &c. This saloon, which is both lofty and well ventilated, is also topped by a neatly ornamented lantern, while the lighting is by a patent sun-light. There is a marble slab in front of the mirrors running the whole length of the saloon. A new front has been put in, and in each of the plate-glass windows there are to be two revolving wax figures arranged so as to display the latest things in the art of the coiffeur.—Sydney Morning Herald.

Oxford House, 143 Oxford-street, the hair-dressing establishment of Mr. C. E. WIGZELL, has been considerably altered and enlarged, and is now probably the most spacious and commodious saloon of the kind in Sydney. It is well-lighted and ventilated by means of lanterns and louvre work in the roof by day, and by gas sun-lights and gasaliers by night. A separate room for ladies has also been made, and the whole is fitted up in tasteful as well as useful style. The front shop is set out with every necessary for toilet or dressing table, and in the windows are revolving wax figures to exhibit the proprietor's skill in the art of wig making and hair-dressing for ladies. The rooms are plentifully supplied with the daily and weekly papers for the amusement of customers waiting to take the chair.—Evening News, Nov. 20.

Oxford House.—This is the name of Mr. C. E. WIGZELL's hair-dressing establishment at 143 Oxford-street. Within the last few weeks the premises have been extensively altered and improved as regards decorations, lighting, and ventilation, and are now, perhaps, the most commodious and attractive of their kind in Sydney. Both the ladies' room and the gentlemen's room are furnished with every necessary, and are lighted by means of lantern and sun-lights. The shop is supplied with every toilet requisite, such as perfumes, brushes, soaps, razors, &c., and a large supply of human hair is always kept in stock. The alterations were designed and executed by Messrs. List and Son, builders, of Albion Street.—Protestant Standard, Nov. 13.

The Improvements on South Head Road.—New Shops (with branch banks, &c.), have added greatly to the appearance and commercial importance of Oxford-street (late South Head Road). Mr. C. E. WIGZELL, hair-dresser, not to be behind in this leading thoroughfare, has of late greatly extended and adorned his business premises.—Echo of the 22nd of November, 1875.

A MEDICAL JOURNAL OF AMERICA says that diphtheria caught by kissing is likely to assume a much severer form than if the disease were contracted in the contagion imparted in some other way. This should be a warning to married men and hired girls. —Chicago Tribune.

SANDS'S SYDNEY AND SUBURBAN DIRECTORY FOR 1876.

In the compilation of SANDS'S SYDNEY AND SUBURBAN DIRECTORY FOR 1876, great attention has been paid to make it as correct and complete as possible.

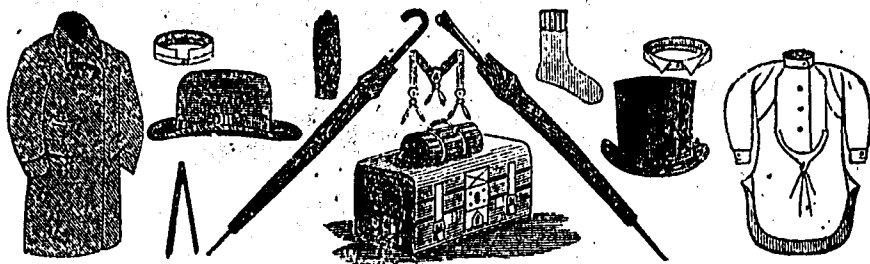

Fully 1,500 additional names will be found in the Alphabetical List, whilst the Suburban and Trades portion have been correspondingly enlarged.

The Publisher regrets, however, that unforeseen circumstances have prevented the preparation of the Map of Sydney and Suburbs which he proposed to have issued with the Directory. However, this he intends carrying out in next year's edition, corrected to the latest available date.

The Intercolonial part of the work, and particulars of the Government Departmental arrangements, will be found replete with useful information; and the Publisher is sanguine that his Directory for 1876 will be most acceptable to the public of New South Wales.

He has to tender, as on previous occasions, his sincere thanks for information kindly afforded him by many gentlemen officially connected.

Kitchen.—Sow French beans, turnips, spinach, carrots, cauliflowers, parsnips, beans, radishes, parsley, rhubarb. For late crops—peas, lettuce, pumpkins, melons, cucumbers. Plant brocoli, celery, cabbages, potatoes. Hints.—Turn up vacant ground ready for re-cropping in wet weather; stir soil deeply between growing crops; choose stout cabbage plants for enduring drought. Flower.—Keep beds clean; weed and water well. Carefully attend to dahlias; stake, prune, and tie up early planted ones, and remove superfluous shoots; dig up and store bulbs as soon as leaves are withered. Remove delicate plants from scorching mid-day sun. Lay carnations and climbers. Roses may be propagated in layers and cuttings in cloudy weather. Orchard.—Loosen ground. Thin superfluous fruit, orange trees, &c. Field.—Break up land for wheat, and stir up that previously ploughed; sow barley for green crop on rich soil. Sow Swedish turnips, mangold wurzel, &c., and sorghum saccharatum, in rows three feet apart, each plant a foot distant. Put in tobacco at the end of the month.

Kitchen.—Sow lettuce, turnips, brocoli, carrots, beans, onions; plant potatoes, brocoli, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, eschallots, horse-radish, rhubarb. Hints.—Provide for winter crops. Cabbage and spinach to be cleared of all incumbrances, and ground loosened. Turnips to grow six inches apart; thin those sown last month. Gather ripening seed daily. Manure, dig and trench vacant ground. Horse-radish and rhubarb to be put into deeply-dug ground. Flower.—Plant Cape bulbs, also dahlias and late annuals for succession; plant out early flowering plants, as ranunculuses, anemones, crocuses, &c.; allow all plants a free current of air, but protect from scorching sun. Late in month propagate plinks by cuttings in light sandy soil, in a dry sheltered place. Orchard.—Weed and loosen soil, thin orange trees. In moist weather plant out strawberries. Field.—Plant potatoes early this month. Sow Cape barley, tares, &c., for spring food, also wheat, mangold wurzel, &c.; but if hot weather, end of month preferred. Sow barley for green crop; collect seed of sorghum and other millets; cut and house tobacco.

Kitchen.—Sow as in October and November. Plant potatoes, celery in trenches to bleach (earthing it up gradually), eschallots, cabbages, and cauliflowers. Hints.—Mulch, hoe, fork, and water all crops; plant out in dull weather; prepare for next month's crops. Flower.—Sow as October and November. Plant hardy annuals and dahlias for succession. Orchard.—Weed, bud, and otherwise attend to fruit-trees as in October and November. Secure trees planted in autumn, to prevent their being shaken with the wind. Field.—Sow last crop of Swede turnips; sow and plant as October and November. Hints.—Hay harvest should be completed this month. When Swede turnips are in rough leaf, roll and hoe them, leaving the plants at least sixteen inches apart; clear away useless leaves and suckers, of potato plants; clean and earth up potato and maize crops.
