MINING MANUAL

OF AUSTRALASIA,

By F. Critchley Parker.

1000 Pages. The only Guide to Mining Matters published in the Southern Hemisphere.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES,
NEW SOUTH WALES

August 3rd, 1897

Having regard to the benefit which should follow the dissemination of reliable information touching the progress and prospects of Mining in this Colony, the Department of Mines endorses the suggestion that those interested be invited to furnish Mr. Critchley Parker with what reliable detail they can command and so assist him in the compilation of his "Australasian Mining Manual."

D. C. McLACHLAN,
Under-Secretary for Mines.

HUGH T. SYDNEY, N.S.W.

"One of the best means of inducing capitalists to invest in our mines is by publishing the fullest information concerning our resources, and the results obtained from the mines at work. Therefore, the publication of such a work as the 'Mining Manual of Australasia' should be hailed as a boon to the colonies and everyone interested in their progress; and especially those engaged in mining should help and thus enable the compiler to produce such a comprehensive Mining Directory as will enable persons in all parts of the world to realise that these Colonies present a field for the investment of capital in mining ventures unequalled in any part of the world."

HARRIE WOOD,
Late Under-Secretary for Mines, N.S.W.DEPARTMENT OF MINES, QUEENSLAND.

August 2nd, 1897.

As the publication of the "Australasian Mining Manual," on which Mr. Critchley Parker is now engaged should be of great advantage in furnishing reliable information with respect to the Mining Industry and Mineral Resources of this Colony, the Mines Department would recommend those interested to render him all assistance by furnishing him with what information they may have to impart.

ROBERT PHILP,
Minister for Mines.DEPARTMENT OF MINES,
VICTORIA.

30th September, 1897.

This Department fully recognises the beneficial influence that would be exercised on mining development by a wide dissemination of reliable information in regard to the mines on the various goldfields of the Colony, and the advantages that would be derived through Mr. Critchley Parker being supplied with accurate particulars relating thereto.
